Coming Thursday Evening

Grayling Travelogue To Feature Unique Tour of England

On Thursday evening, April 17, the Grayling Community School Program will present their next exciting full-color, true-life adventure of the season at the Grayling Holiday Inn. Travelogue time has been set at 7:30 and tickets will be available at the door. As has been the custom for past travelogues this season, the Holiday Inn will present a specially priced buffet featuring English food on the dining terrace prior to the travelogue. Narrating this unique boat tour of England will be nationally recognized newspaper editor Francis Reidelberger.

"England By Canal Boat" begins in London on the famous Thames River, and from there your journey will flow along much of a 3,000 mile network of canals through the lovely English countryside. Industry built these extensive canals before the coming of the railroads. They are preserved today by history and recreation-loving Britons as a monument to England's great Industrial Revolution.

You'll float down the Regent's Canal through the heart of bustling London where you will visit the London Zoo, Little Venice and London Basin. You'll learn how the canal locks work and explore the Waterways Museum at Stoke Newington.

At Sulgrave Manor you'll see the ancestral home of George Washington and explore Stratford on Avon. Most of all you will experience life aboard an English Canal Boat.

You'll visit the famous Wedgwood China Company, an early patron of canal building. You'll see Chester, England's only walled city on the Shropshire Union Canal. Most of all, you'll meet the people of England in this unique, all-color portrait. Fran Reidelberger presents an original approach to a much-filmed country that results in an exciting new view of England.

More information about Thursday's travelogue can be obtained by calling the Grayling Community School Office.

Termed "Tentative & Preliminary" At This Point

School Officials Unveil "No Frills" Budget

by Joe Schrader

Focal point of discussion at Monday night's regular April meeting of the school board centered around preparation of the budget for the 1980-81 school year, which will become effective July 1, 1980.

Termed a "tentative preliminary budget," figures unveiled Monday night were 1) predicated on the basis that no millage increase will be sought for next year, and 2) prepared without information on a number of monetary factors that can only be determined at a later date. Operating expenditures of $3,686,683 were expected to match anticipated revenues in the same amount, thus allowing for no "contingencies."

"Administrators agree that we just cannot ask the community for a millage increase for next year," Dr. Diedrich commented, "and what we prepared to show you tonight is based on the best information available at the present time."

One of the significant question marks is the determination of the County Tax Allocation Board, which will decide in May how much of 15 mills to be divided up will go to the schools. This year, 7.1 mills were allocated for school use. Administrators and the board are hopeful it will be increased to 7.5 mills for next year, thus regaining a .4 mill reduction made about three years ago. Restoration of the 7.5 mills would generate about $40,000 additional money for school use next year. Other variables include school enrollment figures for next year and the amount of state aid the district will receive.

Highlights of the 1980-81 budget (again, tentative and preliminary) discussed Monday, one that, according to Diedrich, "contains no contingency fund", included the following:

—Reinstatement of some community education programs cut this year, including return of the Travel & Adventure series to the high school. Restoration of summer programs that are determined to be "cost effective."

—Reinstatement of driver education programs for high school students cut this year. Preliminary plans call for summer training programs only.

—Needed maintenance and repair of school facilities, including work on the roof at the elementary school.

—Purchase of two new school busses to replace a pair which are beyond reasonable repair, and a truck for use by school maintenance personnel.

Administrators and the board agreed that next year "will be tough, financially." And beyond next year? The school's financial outlook could well be influenced by major alterations in state law and success of the so-called Tisch amendments.

"This is a budget administrators think they can live with," Diedrich concluded.

CONFISCATE RECEIVERS—Sixteen radar detectors, or "fuzz busters" as they are sometimes called, have been confiscated so far by sheriff's deputies, in a crackdown on speeders and others in possession of the devices prohibited by state law.

Undersheriff Joe White, shown here with the recently confiscated equipment, said all of it has been nabbed since a state grant allowed for the recall of two deputies for speed enforcement purposes a couple of months ago.

Public Act 750.508 makes it illegal to equip (unless licensed) vehicles with radio receiving sets that will receive signals sent on frequencies assigned by the Federal Communications Commission. 5th Son Joins Military

"5 Down and None To Go"

By Joe Schrader

It's not like "marching off to war" anymore, but when Dennis Love was officially inducted into the U.S. Army and left March 20th for basic training in Ft. Gordon, near Augusta, Georgia, the emotion experienced by his mother, Mrs. Bergenia Love of Grayling, had to be one to which she had become accustomed. She's felt it four times before and gotten used to it by now. Four of her other sons had preceded Dennis's departure and served in various branches of military, and her late husband was a U.S. Merchant Marine veteran who served in the mid-forties during the second World War.

"It's just something they all wanted to do," Mrs. Love explained when asked what might have inspired the family's interest in the military, "I never really gave it all that much thought."

Last Wednesday, Sgt. Donald L. Rhyner, Station Commander at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station in Gaylord, where Dennis enlisted, presented Mrs. Love a Certificate of Appreciation signed by State Commander Dennis Hanson of Lansing. The award was made "In Appreciation for Outstanding support given the United States Army Midwestern Recruiting Command."

Mrs. Love says 22-year old Dennis is a little homesome now, she can tell by his letters, but explained "they all were at first." See Military on Page 12

Accepts Out-Of-Town Post

Kent Resigns as County Prosecutor

By Joe Schrader

Thomas E. Kent, Crawford County, Prosecuting Attorney since January of 1977, will resign his post effective May 1st to accept a position out of the Grayling area.

Kent told the Avalanche late last week that he will be joining the Grand Rapids Law Firm of VanderVeen and Gould and that he has discussed his resignation with Circuit Court Judge William Porter. Kent said Porter will name a replacement to complete his unexpired term which ends in January of next year.

"VanderVeen and Gould is a growing legal firm," Kent indicated, "and one with great potential." He said the firm has another office in Washington and specializes in personal injury litigation. VanderVeen is Richard VanderVeen, who assumed Gerald Ford's GOP congressional post when he became President following Nixon's resignation.

Kent captured the county's top law enforcement post in the 1976 fall elections and took office in January of 1977. Often the subject of controversy in county matters, Kent survived a recall election in May of 1978.

An associate of local attorney Nelson A. Miles when he first came to Grayling in 1974, Kent thereafter established the Kent & Davis Law Firm in downtown Grayling where he has continued his private practice with Alton T. Davis and more recently, Richard F. McNally.

In another matter, Prosecutor Kent issued the following press release last Friday, explaining the Attorney General's opinion on the controversy sparked by the reduction in 1977, and elimination altogether in 1980, of the salary for the position of Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, a position occupied by Alton T. Davis, full text of which reads as follows:

"Frank Kelley, Attorney General for the State of Michigan, has ruled that the Crawford County Board of Commissioners acted illegally and improperly when it cut the salary of Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Alton T. Davis by 50% in 1977 and then eliminated the salary altogether in 1980.

In a four page Opinion the Attorney General said that the County Commissioners were wrong to reduce the Assistant Prosecuting Attorney's salary in any amount. Prosecuting Attorney Thomas E. Kent advised the Commissioners in October of 1979, prior to final action on the budget, that the Commission's action was improper and said at the time that, if necessary he would take appropriate legal steps to prevent the illegal action.

Mr. Kent and Mr. Davis have notified the Board of the Attorney General's Opinion and have now required that the Commissioners reinstate the full salary retroactively based upon the Attorney General's ruling. Failure of the Board to adhere to the Attorney General's Opinion which would inevitably increase the costs necessary to achieve a final resolution of this matter.

Mr. Kent stated that he sincerely wishes to avoid litigation if possible and would regret having to start suit against the Crawford County Commission, but that if such action was necessary to force the Commissioners to follow the law in Michigan, then he would institute the appropriate proceedings.

Board of Commissioner's Chairman Larry Mattis indicated the board would reserve comment on the matter until its attorney, Nelson A. Miles, received a written Attorney General's opinion on a request he sent on behalf of the Commissioners.

Mattis revealed, however, that the Prosecutor, in a written notice to the board, had asked

Anyone who would like to play and does not already belong to a team should attend this meeting.

MT. HOPE LUTHERAN ALTAR—Mt. Hope Lutheran's new church, now undergoing final touches for a May 18th Dedication Service, will contain one of the most beautiful and unusual altars found in any house of worship anywhere.

The base is fashioned from field stones gathered from the Grayling area and the top was curved and formed from an oak tree estimated to be in the neighborhood of 200 years old.

Base for the altar was built by Bob Schulz, Grayling mason and member of the Mt. Hope congregation, and took hours of work and delicate artistic skills to complete. The top was provided by John Stamply, owner-operator of Stamply Sawmill, and was masterfully cut from an oak tree found near Lake Charlevoix.

Almost three feet in diameter, its many rings are clearly visible on both ends. Church members labored to prepare the top for placement and eight men were required to lift it into place.

Congregation Chairman Preston Slack, shown here at the altar, said it will be lightly stained to accentuate the characteristics of the grain but will be otherwise left uncovered.

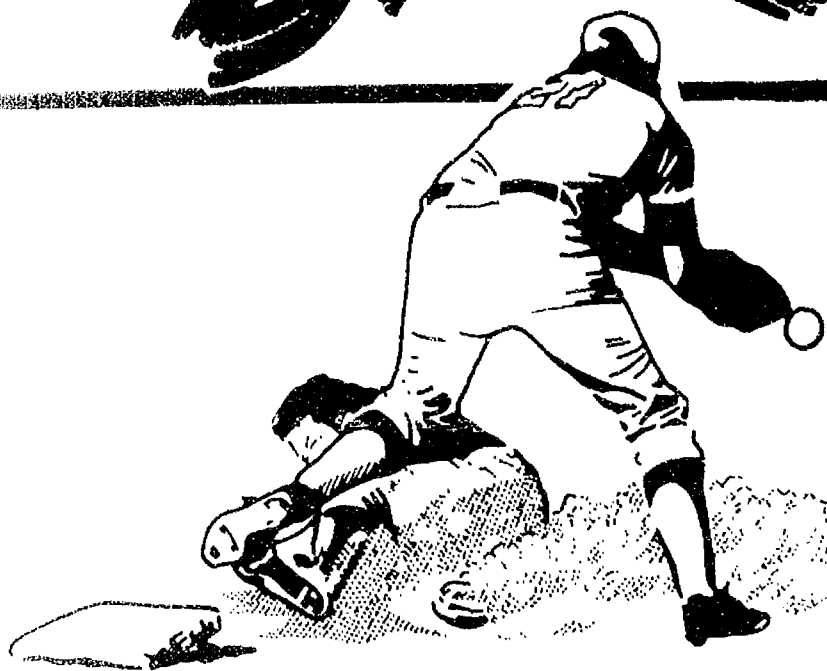

Joined together to form a regal centerpiece for Christian Worship, the precious elements offered up by Mother Nature herself could not have found a more fitting home.

The new church is located 2½ miles north of town on Old-27. Rev. Paul A. Weber is pastor. (Joe Schrader photo)

Withholding Proposal Discourages Savings

Sometimes it's hard to figure out if the Administration is trying to encourage people to save money, or discourage them.

Savings are at one of the lowest points in history. Economists agree that we must encourage savings in an effort to combat inflation. Just recently the President signed the Windfall Profits Tax which contained a provision allowing the first $200 in interest or dividend income to be exempt from tax. The provision was added because savings and investment are declining at a dangerous rate when they must be encouraged to keep productivity at a competitive level.

The President has proposed a plan to automatically withhold taxes from interest made on savings and investments. Financial institutions would be required to turn a portion of the interest directly over to the federal government whenever payments are made.

The President's withholding proposal is completely contrary to the interest exemption. It benefits no one but the federal government by allowing the government to use that money during the year, rather than giving savers the option of leaving it in an account until tax time.

There doesn't seem to be a great deal of reason to institute this new withholding tax, either. It has never been demonstrated that people are NOT reporting interest and dividend income. If the intent of the proposal is to assure that the government receives the revenues which it is due, then the President must prove that the present system is being abused, and that the automatic withholding is indeed warranted. I don't believe it is.

One other point I would like to make is that, if the proposal is instituted, it will require additional reporting and paperwork by the already heavily regulated financial industry. The inconvenience and expense alone would seem to rule out the feasibility of such a proposal even before considering the importance of such a disincentive to savings.

From Our Corner ...

In last week's column we mentioned (hopefully) last week would be our last snow for the year...hopefully just didn't do the job...last Friday we received about 3 inches of snow during the night, and now on Monday there has been snow in the air all day, and we understand that the southern part of the state is supposed to get a bundle...we were reminded this morning by our office gals that we had a storm last year later than this that closed schools and shut down most businesses...

Always someone spoiling our "Think Spring"... The way our weather has been going lately, one would think mother nature is all fouled up...with the mild winter we had, and now the way our spring is going, makes one wonder what the cause might be...just for the records, we received about 3 more inches Monday night.

We have a letter appearing in the Editor's Mailbox this week that is addressed to the Chamber of Commerce...The letter pertains to the naming of the rest area just south of Grayling on the I-75 north bound.

Now, the letter has merit as to the naming the rest area after Seymour Bower, who had so much to do with the State Fisheries...and that Grayling is famed for the AuSable River and fishing...

However, we don't think that it is up to individual towns near these rest areas to identify them with a name...we may be wrong...but it seems to us that the naming of bridges, roads, rest areas, etc., has been up to the Michigan State Highway Department.

This goes along with other state departments such as the Conservation Departments with its parks, recreation areas, etc...

We may be entirely wrong...if any of our readers know the process in which memorials are made to individuals by naming certain areas as such we would be happy to know...

R.J. came back with bloodshot eyes...and the Irishman had his tail feathers clipped Saturday night...all is well in the hamlet once again.

We understand the Country Club is open once again with Tom Brogger returning to manage the operation...some of our golf stalwarts have braved the elements or caught sunny afternoons in between snow squalls to get limbered up so they are ready to make the course their home away from home this summer...just happened to think, seeing how our weather has been, it is a good thing they play winter rules...how's that for a pun...

A.J., Chief of the Shoppenagons told us today he had a wild turkey in his back yard the other day, and said he has put out some corn to try and keep the bird around so he can fatten him up for this year's Thanksgiving feast...we imagine the Conservation Department would frown on this, but then, we've heard about people doing the same with our deer herd...

Wonder how one goes about getting a license to hunt wild turkeys?

We forgot to mention that R.J. called and had lunch with Dane while in Vegas...he said maybe they can work out some sort of deal for silk screening T-Shirts...Dane and his partner do that along with selling skates...besides theater and music he is pursuing...

I don't know exactly what to call this...whether it is a care package or survival kit...anyhow, Jim just came through the Mouse Hole with a platter of goodies from his cheese and deli store for LeRoy and I...there are some nights it ain't that bad to work a little over the limit of the day...

This about does it for this week...have a happy one...

Air Force Offers Bonuses

Gaylord—The Air Force is now offering cash bonuses to qualified six-year enlistees in three highly specialized career fields.

According to Staff Sergeant Daniel L. Crouce, Air Force Recruiter, 100 North Otsego Avenue, Gaylord, Michigan 49735, here, the bonuses will be paid to recruits who complete technical training requirements for radio communication analysis/security, explosive ordnance disposal or voice processing.

Bonus amounts will vary. Radio communications specialists will receive $1,000; explosive ordnance disposal specialists, $1,500; and voice processing specialists, $2,000. Sergeant Crouce explained that enlistees will be authorized a lump sum payment at their first duty assignment following completion of training.

Applicants for Air Force training in these specialties must be high school graduates or possess a state-certified GED. They must have no prior military service and be fully qualified for training in the specialty.

Further information about the bonus plan and other Air Force opportunities is available from Sergeant Crouce at his office or by calling him at 517/732-2746.

"Make sure your car insurance protects you in 'no-fault' states."

"If you're planning on a long trip by car, chances are, you'll be driving through states with 'no-fault' insurance laws.

"If you're covered by an Auto-Owners policy, you can relax. Auto-Owners provides protection automatically under its bodily injury and property damage liability coverage in 'no-fault' states.

"This kind of far-sighted protection is just one of the reasons we recommend Auto-Owners Insurance to the people we serve."

The Bible Speaks

—from Calvary Baptist Church—

Hope in an Age of Dispair

Where shall we turn in an age of dispair and despondancy? People are crushed with economic problems, family problems and lack of true friendship in this old world. Is there any real hope for a better tomorrow here or elsewhere? People feel all alone and pressured as never before from all sides?

My friend, have you experienced the "...hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began?" Titus 3:7. This hope is unending even in death. "The righteous hath hope in his death." Proverbs 14:32. This hope of forgiven sins and eternal life rests upon the finished work of Jesus Christ as proven by His resurrection. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ..." I Peter 1:3. Our assurance of salvation comes from the promises of God's Word. "My soul fainteth for thy salvation; but I hope in thy word." Psalm 119:81.

Having this wonderful hope produces patience and comfort in our lives as we rely upon the Bible. "That we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope," Romans 15:4. The hope of God gives us joy and peace as we believe God's Word. "The God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Spirit." Romans 12:13. "Rejoicing in hope," Romans 12:12.

Our hope is not only for this life, but it is, "The hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel." Colossians 1:5. We are, "Looking for that blessed hope and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ." Titus 2:13. For it is "...Christ in you, the hope of glory." Colossians 1:27b. For this cause, we should, "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason for the hope that is in you with meekness and fear." I Peter 3:15 (adv.)

Lansing Report

By State Rep. Ralph Ostling
Property Tax Petition Drive Announced:

My Republican colleague in the House, State Representative Mark Siljander of Three Rivers, is the architect of a measure to cut property taxes by up to 70 percent. Last week he announced a state-wide petition drive to place his amendment on the November ballot.

The Siljander amendment would eliminate property tax on the first 26 mills assessed by the state's school districts, resulting in a net tax savings of more than a third of a billion dollars. Some $450 million in lost revenues would be made up through a one percent increase in the state's sales and use tax.

The measure needs 286,722 signatures to place it on the fall ballot.

This is an innovative, broad approach to property tax reduction.

It's a tax cut, not a shift, that will save the citizens of our state a tremendous amount of money. It's responsible and gives people the kind of tax relief they are demanding.

The Siljander plan, if approved by the voters, would:

—Exempt all property tax on homes valued up to $50,000 for senior citizens and blind and disabled persons.

—Substantially increase tax breaks for renters.

—Limit state income tax burden by mandating that personal exemptions rise with the rate of inflation.

—Guarantee lottery revenues for education.

—Limit the number of school millage elections to two per year.

Result in a cut in state spending.

—Provide direct state reimbursement to local units of government.

—Require a two-thirds vote of the Legislature to increase taxes or create a new tax.

This amendment is a sound approach to property tax reduction. It doesn't take the kind of meat-axe approach that would seriously cut vital state services that other amendments do. Many other proposals to cut property taxes will be offered soon, but they are in the drafting stages at the present time.

For those interested in circulating petitions for the Siljander amendment you can obtain them by contacting my office at the State Capitol, Lansing, Michigan 48909. These should be obtained soon if the amendment is to get on the November general election ballot as all signatures have to be collected by the end of June.

Since last year, generic products have become big business.

Today, approximately 125 grocery firms sell generic labeled items in about 11,000 stores. These stores sell from 1 to over 150 food and nonfood generic labeled items.

Studies have shown that nonfood items have been more popular than food items, according to specialists with the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

Generic food labels now account for 9 to 12 percent of sales in any given category of products.

One executive has reported that generic labeled products have captured 28 percent of the nationwide sales of green beans.

The top sellers in canned generic products are kernel corn, green beans, peas, whole tomatoes, mixed cocktail fruits, tomato catsup and peaches.

These products are generally used as ingredients in other dishes where color and quality are not terribly important.

In marketing areas where only a few stores sell generics, retailers are promoting the little-known national and second-line labels instead.

Need Worker's Comp System Change

If true reform of Michigan's costly Workers' Compensation System does not come about soon, the economy and job opportunities in our area—and in the entire state—will suffer.

And, legitimately-injured employees, as well as area job providers, will continue to be penalized.

On April 2, I attended a business leaders rally at the State Capitol in Lansing. The purpose of the rally was to review Senate Bill 1089. It is a balanced bill that addresses the abuses in the system, with the resulting savings helping to offset the added costs of increased maximum benefit levels. Along with more than 1,000 business leaders from throughout the state, I talked with legislators to express my concerns about the skyrocketing costs of work comp.

We made it clear to our legislators that the package of 13 bills recently introduced by Sen. Plawewski certainly doesn't come close to true and balanced reform. Not only will his proposals dramatically increase the cost of the $1 billion system by nearly 22%, but they don't address the costly abuses in the system. Under his bills, employers would be forced to increase their current benefit payments by at least $219 million a year.

Now is the time for balanced legislation that would reform the most negative element in Michigan's business climate. The Workers' Compensation Act must be returned to its original intent, that of providing adequate wage-loss benefits to employees who have become legitimately disabled in the course of employment.

Although reform has been talked about for more than a decade, nothing has been done so far. All of Michigan continues to suffer for this inaction because of the work comp impact on the entire business and job environment of the state.

The high-cost work comp system is unfair to workers because they pay for the abuses in the system through lower benefits and through decreased job opportunities. It's unfair to consumers because they pay for it through higher prices for Michigan products. The state also suffers in terms of lost jobs because businesses are not locating here or are moving out of Michigan where work comp rates are much lower.

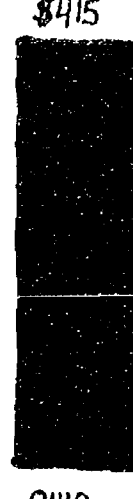

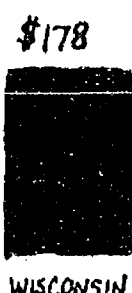

It's time that labor unions and many legislators realize that the big losers in Michigan's high-cost, low-benefit, abuse-riddled work comp system are the workers of this state.

Legislation To Help Loggers Work Comp

Lansing—State Senator Mitch Irwin, (Sault Ste. Marie), is urging the Senate Labor and Retirement Committee to report out onto the Senate Floor a bill which would give a boost to the logging industry by lowering workers' compensation costs.

"Enactment of a meaningful law which will enable loggers to keep operating is absolutely essential in order to give northern Michigan's sagging economy a badly needed shot in the arm," said Irwin.

"Senate Bill 1044 would provide 1,400 small-time, independent logging companies, which have been struggling for the last several years, the help they need to stay in business, as well as help promote an expansion of the industry in Michigan," Irwin said. "There could be no more critical time than the present for the Legislature to act on this bill."

Irwin called upon the committee to approve the bill at its April 16 meeting, when the measure is scheduled for consideration. "There is no question that this legislation may be a reasonable solution to a severe problem in the logging industry," Irwin said.

"Amazingly enough, the only other occupations with higher workers' compensation costs in Michigan are airplane stunt flyers and parachutists," Irwin said. "Our loggers are in jeopardy of being driven out of business by Wisconsin logging companies, which can sell wood cheaper to the large manufacturing companies because their cost of doing business is lower."

The bill is designed to lower the high rates of insurance companies must charge to insure loggers because of the high risk while on-the-job.

The bill would establish a special state-administered fund for reimbursing insurance companies for the amount of compensation paid for injuries over $12,500. The fund would be made up of special annual assessment fees charged to insurance companies by the state.

Each year, companies writing workers' compensation policies for loggers would have to pay into the fund 2 percent of the claims paid the year before.

"While this doesn't solve the whole workers' comp problem here in Michigan, this could be a step in that direction," Irwin said.

HOLD RIBBON CUTTING—Mac Distributing Company officials and local dignitaries gathered Saturday afternoon for official ribbon cutting ceremonies at the company's newly-opened operation in the Grayling Industrial Park. Rev. Otis Smith of Grayling provided the dedication prayer.

Manager Richard Oliver said Mac Distributing chose to open a business here because of the demand in Northern Michigan for the windows, doors, garage doors and allied hardware the business distributes. The company also installs commercial and residential garage doors.

Receives Detroit Bank Promotion

Patrick M. McQueen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McQueen of Grayling, has been promoted to vice president and senior consumer banking officer at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. Mr. McQueen is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he received a B.B.A. degree. In addition he earned an M.B.A. from Michigan State University.

Mr. McQueen began his career at the Bank in 1970. He was appointed an operations officer in 1972, second vice president and installment loan officer in 1974 and vice president in the Consumer Loan Department in 1977.

News of Good Things Growing

With warm breezes gently filling many of our days, thoughts turn to getting outdoors for fresh air and warm sunshine. Good things growing in Michigan include many foods ideal for spring picnic planning.

Plan an "all-Michigan" picnic centered around your favorite recipe of potato salad coupled with a ham loaf made with Easter Sunday's leftovers.

Combine four cups ground cooked ham with one small onion, finely chopped. Soak two cups seasoned bread crumbs in one-half cup hot water, mix with ham mixture and two eggs slightly beaten. Line an 8 x 3-inch loaf pan with foil and sprinkle with one-quarter cup brown sugar and one-quarter teaspoon ground cloves. Place four canned peach halves on the sugar. Press meat mixture into the pan and bake one hour at 350 degrees. Turn out on a heated platter and carefully peel off the foil.

If you want to add a vegetable to the menu, it's a little early for fresh Michigan corn-on-the-cob, but corn pudding or scalloped corn, as some people prefer, is delicious.

Add some tasty cole slaw made with Michigan cabbage, carrots and onions to the menu and baked apples for dessert. Rome Beauty, "queen of the baking apples," and Northern Spy, both popular varieties in our state, are excellent baking apples. Michigan apple growers lead the nation with their production of Northern Spies and produced about 100 million pounds of the two varieties last year. A total 680 million pounds of apples of all varieties were harvested in 1979, third largest production in the nation.

Pickles are a picnic perennial, as are Michigan carrot and celery sticks, for a garnish tray. Other Michigan items you might want to add to your garnish display are deviled eggs, cottage cheese, stuffed or French fried mushrooms or onion rings.

If the weather should change, don't let it spoil your plans. Just move your picnic indoors. Pick up a potted plant and use its freshness to bring the outdoors inside! Our state's floriculture industry is the fourth largest in the nation, earning $42.1 million in 1978 (latest figures available).

Iran, hostages top agenda

RICHARD MILLIMAN

AFTER ALMOST 150 days in the spotlight, Iran and the 50 American prisoners still are the hottest subject in Washington, with Afghanistan a close second and the state of the economy an even closer third.

That's the conclusion gained from my recent attendance at the National Newspaper Association government affairs conference in Washington.

Speaker after speaker visited with some 300 or so representatives of the weekly and small daily newspaper field from around the country, and the Iranian situation was the most popular subject.

Almost everyone in Washington seems to be an expert on Iran, yet nobody really seems to know what to do about it. There are all sorts of views about how we got where we are, but not too many cogent suggestions about how we get out of it.

FORMER NEWSPAPERMAN Hodding Carter, now spokesman for the State Department and an almost daily television celebrity, was also a celebrity among his former colleagues. Carter edited a small daily in Mississippi before moving to the Washington spotlight.

Defending the present policy of restraint in Iran, Carter pointed out the difficulty of "dealing with factions (within Iran) that barely co-exist generally." He said "this administration is not willing to be pallbearers for 50 Americans while there's any chance of getting them out alive."

He also challenged "anyone to tell us how to do it," and, referring to 1980's political climate, he said, "I want any politician to pledge to go to all 50 funerals" if harsher steps are advocated.

ASKED ABOUT security measures before the embassy was seized, Carter responded:

"No embassy in the world is secure enough to stand if the host country won't protect it..."

He added, in defense of the administration's firm stand on the militants' demands:

"If one item of blackmail succeeds, then 138 embassies abroad are endangered. The United States cannot give anything of substance to these people unless we are prepared to bring back all our foreign diplomats."

From a political standpoint, Hodding Carter said that President Carter would suffer "a net political loss in the long run after we get the hostages out...and we will get them out."

NOT ALL SPEAKERS before the NNA conference were as sympathetic to the Jimmy Carter administration as was Hodding Carter (no relation, by the way).

In another session Richard Helms, former ambassador to Iran and former head of the CIA, bristled at suggestions that intelligence was lax in Iran.

"Don't blame intelligence," Helms responded to a questioner. "We had intelligence. What intelligence is information upon which to base actions; but if you don't take the right action, all the intelligence in the world won't do you any good."

Helms also suggested that the American hostages are not being held to assure the return of the Shah to Iran, but rather "they are being held for the internal purposes of the Ayatollah."

ANOTHER FORMER ambassador, Robert Neumann, who was ambassador to Afghanistan among other tours of duty as a professional diplomat for the U.S., was generally critical of President Carter's foreign policies.

"Sometimes I think this administration must know how to do things right, even though they always do things so badly," Neumann said. "Otherwise, under the law of averages, they'd get something right once in a while."

Other speakers before the NNA conference dealt with their specialties—Secretary Shirley Hufstader on the new Department of Education; Secretary Charles W. Duncan on energy; Postmaster General William F. Bolger on mail rates and problems, which are always dear to the hearts of small town publishers; Chief Justice Warren Burger on the mechanics of the Supreme Court; Sen. Richard Schweiker and Rep. Jack Kemp on the state of the nation and the economy; Sen. John C. Culver on the SALT treaties; Sen. John Glenn on alternate energy sources; Sen. Howell Heflin on the freedom of the press to cover courts and governments; and various other agency and congressional officials.

But the overriding concern this time around was foreign affairs—and the fate of the hostages in Iran and the United States in the Middle East.

It was a serious conference...properly so, because these are serious times.

EDITORS NOTE—This is part three in a four part series covering Steve Rison's "Trip around the World."

I continued north to Queensland (the Sunshine State) and spent a few days in Southport near what is known as Surfer's Paradise. The "Gold Coast", as it's also called, is Australia's answer to Ft. Lauderdale—Miami Beach with beautiful beaches, wild surf, and "sugar and spice and everything nice." Unfortunately this is also where I encountered the "blue bottles" (of which I spoke earlier) causing me some pain which even the local scenery couldn't distract.

From there it was on to Brisbane overnight and on to the Tropics. Hitching to Cairns I met a guy named Jeff, who seeing the stars and stripes on my backpack, stopped and offered me a lift. He, too, was a traveler, a native of Ontario, who had been living in the area for the last six years. I was invited to spend some time at his "humpy" (get-away retreat) and there in experienced a little of the outback tropics. The humpy was comfortable but pretty basic—no electricity, no running water (rainwater storage tank), a cement slab with a corrugated steel roof, no windows because of a lack of complete outside walls set out on a winding road past the cane fields in the bush. The bath was a little creek and the outhouse...the outhouse. Like I said—basic. The atmosphere and the neighbors, however, made me especially appreciate this brief but rewarding diversion.

Wally and Mona James, the permanent neighbors, stopped over the afternoon I was there shortly after we went down the road. Wally, with the nickname "whiskers" has lived most of his 60 odd years in that area. Not expecting Jeff to have company, Wally was somewhat hesitant to come in from the car but with some coaxing they eventually did. Wally usually doesn't wear clothes—he was usual.

Jeff was right when he said I had a treat in store when I meet Wally. He seemed to have a philosophy, talent; and story for everything from home brew (which we, of course, sampled later) to how to make the best out of floods—pick out the best pieces of wood for firewood as they float by then climb up on a barrel, table or something, close your kitchen door and fish! I was especially intrigued by his relating that he had only the previous day "pulverized" with his hands, a 6 foot swamp python which was about to devour one of his chicks. Needless to say my subsequent bath in the creek, and my later swims at beautiful waterfall pools in the bush, were approached with more than a little anxious trepidation. A late night trip back to the outhouse was also immediately ruled by me as hazardous. Unlike New Zealand, Australia has an incredible number of poisonous snakes, many of which are deadly. Although rarely encountered, a Hartwick Pines type hike in the woods is likewise rarely attempted except perhaps by the likes of a Wally James.

Jeff, still on holiday from work, gave me a lift to Cairns to end this 3,000 mile trip up the coast. Australia I've come to appreciate, while only having five states, is a big, big country. The tropical north normally during the wet season is usually inundated with rain, floods and cyclones but again has been unusually sunny and pleasant. I had an opportunity to visit Green Island which is part of the Great Barrier Reef some 20 miles out into the ocean. The coral, plant life and varieties of fish were incredible in their colorful brilliance and intensity and left me with a sense of amazement and appreciation of the sea I've never had before.

Scott Reynolds, Mike Chrisman, Todd Duncley, and Jeff Schrader spent a ten day vacation near Kissimmee, Fla. They spent the Easter weekend at Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Scott Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reynolds, was honored late this winter when he was invited to participate in the ADS, Alumni Distinguished Scholarship, test at Michigan State. Only the high academic students are invited to take the exam and the top ten finalists get a complete four-year college education at State. The next ten get full tuition for four years. The parents of the student are invited to attend programs especially for them that weekend and Carl and Sandy joined their son for a most enjoyable weekend. Scott has been accepted at Michigan State for the 1980 fall term and will be enrolled in a pre-vet program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson returned from their winter at Lakeland, Fla. They report having a very good winter. During the winter the church that they attend had an all states dinner in which people from various states decorated their tables. The Michigan table was done by a Michigan man who built the Mackinac Bridge out of tinker toys, complete with toy cars. Elsie and Dottie Williamson helped with the decor with apple blossoms, bags of beans, cars, and skaters on a rink. Their table won second prize.

"Color Me a Happy 5-Year Old..."

Perashina La LaMotte

Perashina La LaMotte is five years old and is a typical girl with all the same interests of others her age. She performs magic with crayons, cooks, cleans, dances, swims and loves life. She lives with her parents, William and Dana LaMotte of Burton, Mi. Her grandmother, Joan Rose, lives here in Grayling. Her father says her special name was derived by combining the name of a graveyard in Crawford County, Perashina, and the name of a personal friend, La, into one.

She was born three months premature and she has cerebral palsy, which perhaps, in view of her accomplishments, makes her a little more special than other kids her age.

She was a year and a half old when William and Dana learned that she had cerebral palsy, which her father says is a birth defect and not a disease.

But surgery, therapy, determination, along with love and encouragement from her parents have allowed her to progress to the point where she now takes tap, ballet and acrobatic lessons when only two years ago she was unable to walk.

Surgery was required to reshape incorrectly formed heels that prevented her from walking and it is still necessary for her to regularly travel the long distance to Ann Arbor for therapy.

Perashina La knows her problem but it doesn't bother her. "You can't keep her down," her father says. She attends kindergarten classes at Dowdell School and thinks Show & Tell is "neat." She has won several coloring contests with her talents, including one sponsored by Suburban News advertisers. Later she won first prize, and two stuffed animals, in a coloring contest for children 12 and under sponsored by Smith-B's of Davison.

Perashina La's life-long dream is to become a singer and dancer and her heroes are John Travolta, who she saw star in "Grease" and Spanky of "Little Rascals" fame. She watches Spanky on TV and likes him "because he's chubby."

Her mother Dana says Perashina La has done so much in just a few short years. She planted a flower garden last summer and went fishing, too. Under close supervision, she can even cook, making omelets and cookies, her mother said, finishing up by doing the dishes.

William and Dana want to take her to Disneyland or Disney World when the opportunity comes along, to visit another of Perashina La's heroes, Mickey Mouse.

She's been such an excellent kid," her father says, "our lives revolve around her."

To all of Norm's Friends and Family

I just want to thank each of you for your prayers and support in this very hard time. It's hard to find the proper words to express my deep sorrow and grief. I would also like to thank Doctors Hogg and Blaha, the nurses, Reverends Fraser and Spencer, and my personal friends for their kindness and concern.

Sincerely,
Scott Olsen

The meeting will be held in Grayling, at the Holiday Inn and will focus on the "Issues of MNA".

McDonald's Gives Kids a Hand

McDonald's Restaurants across the country have announced plans to conduct a fund-raising campaign for the Ronald McDonald House of Michigan in celebration of their 25th Anniversary.

On McHappy Day, Sunday April 27th, 25 cents for every Big Mac sandwich will be donated to the Ronald McDonald House.

The Ronald McDonald House, adjacent to Children's Hospital of Michigan in Detroit Medical Center, is a home-away-from-home for the parents of children with cancer or other critical illnesses.

National and local V.I.P.s are currently being recruited to aid in the fund-raising program. Community leaders, sports figures, entertainers and media personalities will join forces to help support McHappy Day. Each V.I.P. will spend about one hour at a McDonald's as a volunteer crew person, greeting guests, shaking hands, passing out french fries and flipping a hamburger or two.

The involvement of V.I.P.s will encourage people to visit McDonald's on McHappy Day and to lend their support to the Ronald McDonald House of Michigan.

The Wednesday Morning Golf Auxiliary organizational meeting is scheduled, according to the by-laws, for the fourth Tuesday of this month, April 22, 1980. It will be held at the clubhouse at 7 p.m.

Anyone wishing to join should be at the meeting or contact Mabel Gothro, chairman of the golf committee, as there will be a deadline for signing up because of scheduling.

Douglas Martin Benedict, 17, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of using a credit card without the consent of the card holder. A $6,000 cash/surety bond was set. Two separate charges, the first, retaining a credit card without the consent of the card holder and carrying a concealed weapon, were both dismissed upon motion of the Prosecutor's Office.

Separate charges of retaining a credit card without the consent of the card holder and carrying a concealed weapon were both dismissed upon motion of the Prosecutor's Office.

Terry Lee Johnson, 19, pled guilty to a charge of attempted escape from lawful custody and was sentenced to 90 days in jail with credit given for time already served.

st." After completion of basic training including his choice of instruction in teletype operation, Dennis will go to Europe for 18 months, another one of the options he had available to him, Sgt. Rhyner emphasized. He joins on active duty his 20-year old brother Mark, a Marine Corpsman since October of 1978, who is enroute to assignment in Missouri, having just returned from duty in Okinawa.

The oldest three Love brothers, James, Steven and Gerald all volunteered and served Jim and Steve with the Army and Jerry with the Marines. The eldest, Jim, now 32, served from October of 1965 to June of 1969; Steve, 31, from October of 1966 to December, 1970, and Gerald, 28, from February of 1970 to March of '73. All three currently reside in the Brighton area. A daughter, Sherry, lives in Farmington Hills.

Mrs. Love, who resides nine miles east of Grayling on M-72, returned to the area about a year ago after residing in Brighton for 26 years.

Sgt. Rhyner, a 16-year Army Vet himself and recruiter in Gaylord for 1½ years now, thinks the circumstances in the Love family are unique to say the least. "To have five sons all served in the military service is quite something," he said, "that's why I thought their mother should be recognized somehow."

Unfortunately for the Army, all of the Love boys have now been used up, and Sgt. Rhyner will have to direct his attention elsewhere.

HOT WATER FOR A SONG.

A DIME, TO BE EXACT.

If you've got an electric water heater, a good, 5-minute shower costs you about a dime.

And that's about 15 gallons of water.

Enough to give a body something to sing about...at least when you consider what inflation's doing to other current costs.

No, we're not saying electricity is cheap. But the fact of the matter is that electricity uses up less of the average family's spendable income now than it did 20 years ago.

cooking meals, running small appliances, and warming the water for countless baths and showers. Electricity—especially when you use it wisely—is still a very good buy.

Baking a turkey for 5 hours in an electric oven today costs only about 55 cents. Doing a load of clothes in an electric dryer runs you about 13½ cents.

Yes, the cost of energy as a whole has increased in recent years. But there are still forms of energy that, in relation to all the other costs of living, serve us well and at reasonable expense.

At Consumers Power, we wanted you to know that electricity is one of them. And that we're trying to keep it that way.

ELECTRICITY. It's still a good buy.

Congratulations to . . .

for relief on the matter as follows:

—That the sum of $2,500 improperly withheld from the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney during the calendar year of 1977 be paid to the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney by no later than April 18, 1980.

—That those sums withheld from the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney and the benefits to which he is entitled by virtue of his office and which have been wrongfully withheld thus far for the calendar year 1980 be reinstated and paid in full by April 18, 1980.

—That by no later than April 25, 1980, monies properly due and payable to the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney be reinstated and paid in accordance with standard payroll procedure.

Kent further indicated that if the relief sought was not granted, his office will "take such action as is necessary to mandate compliance."

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners reduced the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney's salary from $5000 to $2500 in 1977 on the basis that fewer county legal services would be provided by the Prosecutor's office.

The salary was upped in 1978 and '79 to the $5000 per annum level. But in 1980, the Commissioners eliminated the salary altogether in a move that was widely criticized by the Prosecutor's Office, whose salary request for 1980 was for $7,500 for the Chief Assistant's position.

Grayling Chamber of Commerce

Gentlemen:
Perhaps your group could get the ball rolling on the subject matter below.

It would lend distinction and individuality to the various rest areas along our interstate highways in Michigan if each had a name, such as the John Mackie area near Clare.

There would be considerable benefit to travelers. Each area would assume a personality of its own, as well as become a milestone and rendezvous point.

I propose, as a start, that the rest area a mile or so south of Grayling on northbound I-75 be designated the Seymour Bower Area. Mr. Bower was a pioneer in the trout propagation field during his 25 years as Superintendent of State Fisheries, and contributed greatly to the development of the present nationally recognized Michigan fish culture system.

A detailed account of Mr. Bower's accomplishments and contributions appeared in the "Michigan Department of Conservation Monthly Bulletin" (Oct. 1932) A copy of the article is enclosed.

It would be fitting that Grayling, with its famed trout streams, be the site of a memorial to a man who did so much for recreational fishing in Michigan.

Our instructions read 36 inches. But one of the sides of our "do-it-yourself" bookcase measured only 35 inches.

"Why not just shorten the other side by an inch?" suggested my son, John. We did and ended up having to cut an inch off the back. It would have been better had we corrected rather than simply revised the plans.

Like the bookcase, our lives have a plan drafted by God. We often fall short, and rather than correct ourselves, we downgrade our other dimensions — our standards and aspirations. Thus, we fool ourselves into believing that we still measure up. The result is a life half-lived, filled with doubt, worry and often, regret.

Read of God's plan for you in the Bible; consult with him in His Church.

You have everything to gain.
